SPARTIATE VOLUME XVII

Editor — George A. Niotta

"MAY I HAVE YOUR ATTENTION, PLEASE?"

This book is about us.
It's about our years together.
Our moments of individual and collective triumph
and our periods of quiet desperation.
Our shared experiences.

2.

3.

1. Eric Youngquist shows that Greg Maury really can use his head. 2. Eddie Parada, Scott Fisch and Jerry Lawrence. 3. David Mack takes a break. 4. Seniors model fashions a la John Belushi.

4.

here's the real thing

DAMIEN '79

Graduates	10
Teachers	48
Organizations	68
Events	92
Athletes	116
Students	176
Sponsors	216

4.

1. Mickey turns 50 in '78: A Sign of the Times. 2. Rick Sullivan smiles an impish smile. 3. Sign of the Times: Basketball gains popularity at Damien. 4. Students take time out for an R and R. 5. '78 election candidate Sandy Baldonado discusses political views with Fr. Martin O'Loghlen SS.CC.

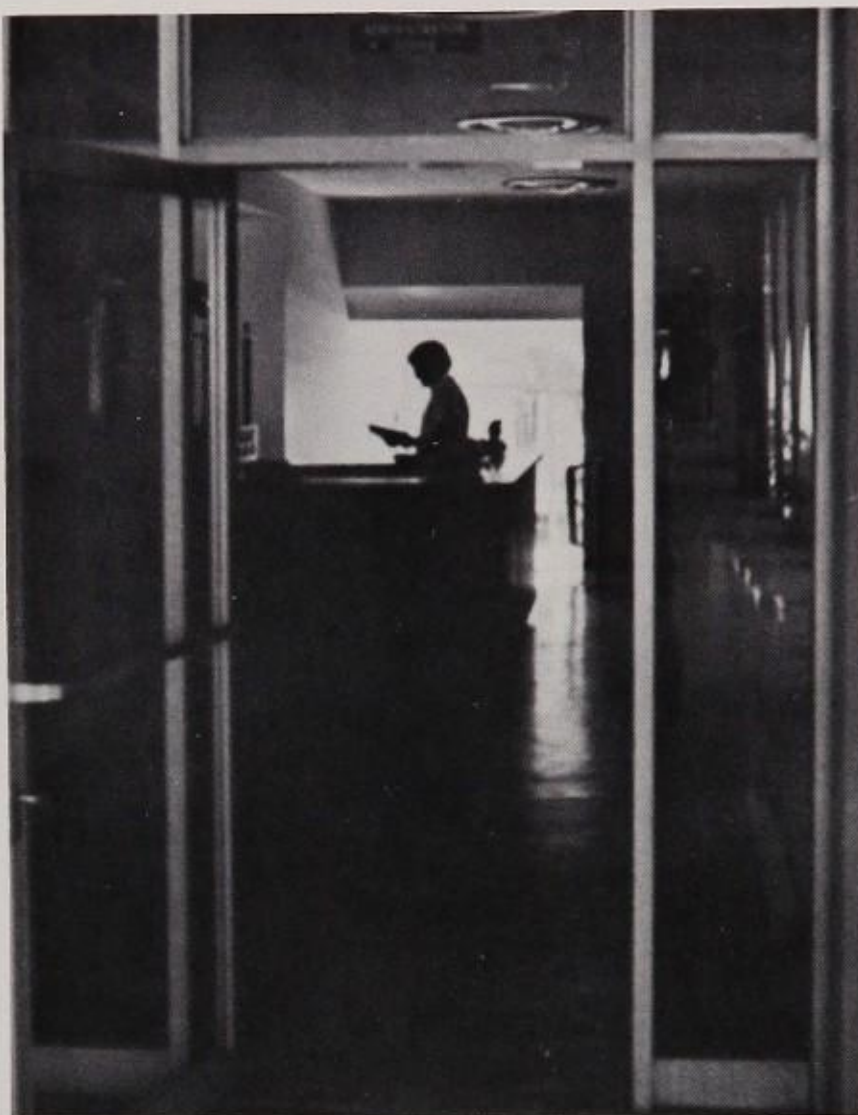

5.

It's about caring,
about doing our part to maintain a standard of excellence.
It's three books of raffle tickets:
finding new ways to peddle an old item.
It's about rallies
and high volume participation.
It's one hundred hours of active community service.

It's about education.
Coming in late with last year's excuse
and leaving with this year's pink slip.
About the one-night Encyclopedia
Britannica term paper,
the morning break Algebra homework,
and the in-class, overnight reading assignment . . . It's missing the honor roll by a percentage point.
But it's more . . .

1.

4.

1. Mike Canale and Bob Madden listen intently. 2. A quiet view of the usually crowded main office. 3. Sign of the Times: Tourists now flock to the island where Fr. Damien S.S.C.C. treated the lepers. 5. Seniors clown around at second lunch.

2.

4.

1. Greg Flaherty relaxes during publications class. 2. David Weiss flanked by Italian brothers Mike and George Niotta. 3. Cameraman Pat Hester surprise by another Spartiate photographer. 4. Sign of the Times: The ever-popular Coke machine still provides the 'pause that refreshes'. 5. Fr. Peadar Cronin SS.CC. tries to convince Mike Fox to join the Green Hat Band.

1. Mr. Jim Dineen is on his way to Spanish II.
2. Sign of the Times: Nike becomes popular with Damien athletes. 3. Mr. John Long and Marita O'Connor greet students in the main office. 4. The supply counter in Fr. Bill Moore's SS.CC., after a busy day in art class.

2.

4.

It is about the geometry proof that made sense,
the literary interpretation that
was yours,
the ethics you learned you could live by.
It's about involvement,
about learning outside of the classroom.
About sports and Spartan Spirit.
Teamwork.
A joint cause.
The gridiron, the court, the diamond, the track, the field.
The thrill of victory and the agony of three straight football losses.
It's a sweaty, grueling practice
and a cheering, capacity home crowd.

1. David Weiss and Marty Reina share a sandwich. 2. Sign of the Times: Damien weightlifters strive for excellence. 3. Gary Jabara, Joe Rode and Bill Cortez discuss ad campaign in publications. 4. Jerry Schlesinger and David Weiss sing in the rain. 5. Mark LeDuc's Business Law class keeps students interested.

1.

4.

3.

5.

Students and priests share sign of peace on the death of Pope John Paul I.

It's about campus life.
 It's the twenty-minute lunch
 and the twenty-five minute lunch line.
 It's the pre-cooked burrito.
 The four minute sprint between classes.
 The frisbee on the four-hundred building roof.
 The clocks that run on their own time.
 The air conditioning we don't have
 and the heaters that don't work.
 But it's more . . .

It's about
 the inspired student and the dedicated teacher.
 It's the help during break
 and the free lesson after school.
 It's the Senior Gift.
 It's the high ideals
 and the comfortable
 atmosphere.
 It's the diary of a Mad Teenager.
 It's business as usual . . .

THANK YOU AND THERE ARE SEVERAL FURTHER ANNOUNCEMENTS . . .

• You've made it; you're at the top.
 A Senior.
 The Quad is yours.
 The parking lot is yours.
 You race to Baker's at lunch.
 You try to grow a moustache.
 All is not positive; you have limits.
 You are a member of a society,
 and society has rules.
 The Dean is still there.
 The bell still rings.
 The assignments are still due.
 The report cards still come.
 But, somehow it's different:

Your world is changing.
 What college am I going to?
 Should I retake my S.A.T.?
 Who are these schools that clutter my bulletin board
 saying, "ENROLL HERE?"
 Will I ever get financial aid?

But, then, it's 1979.
 The year that would never come.
 Suddenly, May is not that far away,
 You get measured for your cap
 and gown.
 You send out your announcements.

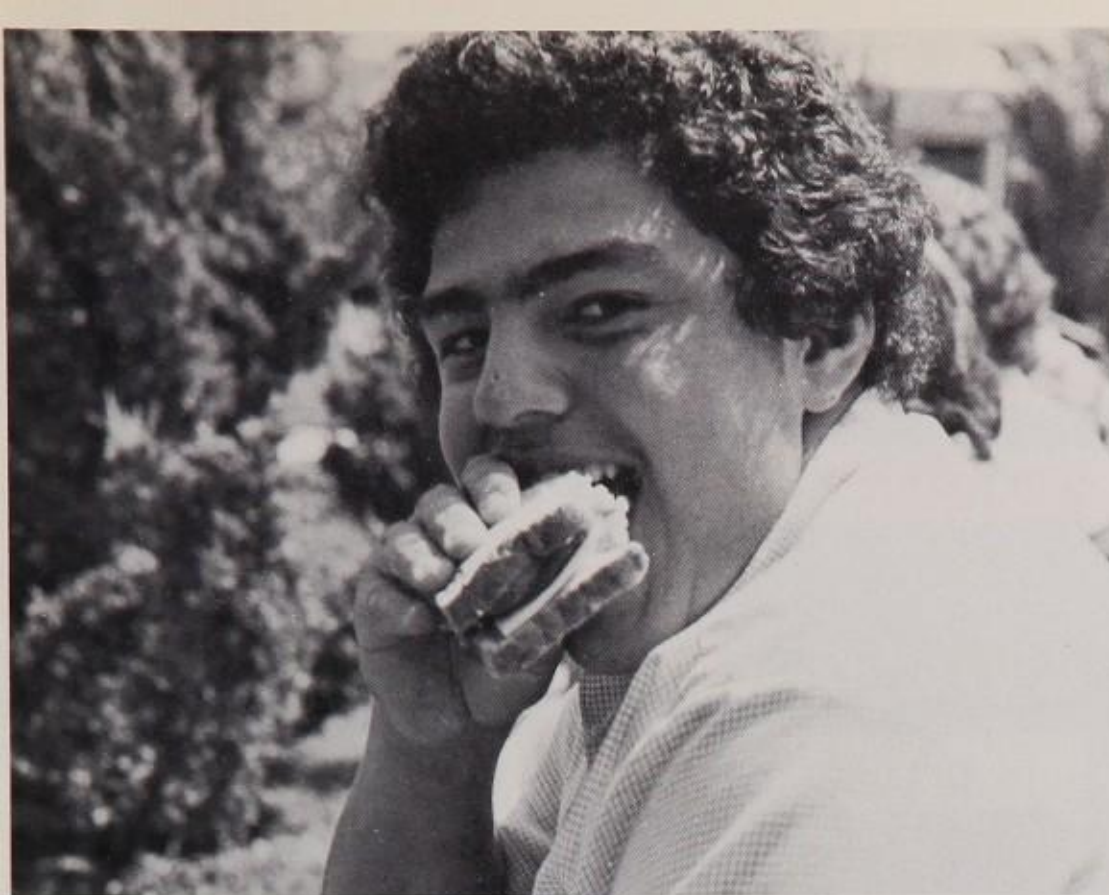

Peter Thornton, Marty Reina, Jim Lyster, Jerry Lawrence, David Mack and Steve Picard stroll through quad on patrol.

Ron Lopez contemplates another cartoon for the Laconian.

Mike Niotta, Tim Byrnes, David Weiss and Kevin Corcoran relax after a hard game.

Howard Lopez is caught nibbling on a sandwich.

Sign of the Times: Welcome directions for campus visitors and incoming freshman.

Mike Strickland shows 'knock-out' punch to Brad Brennan as Brian Brennan watches.

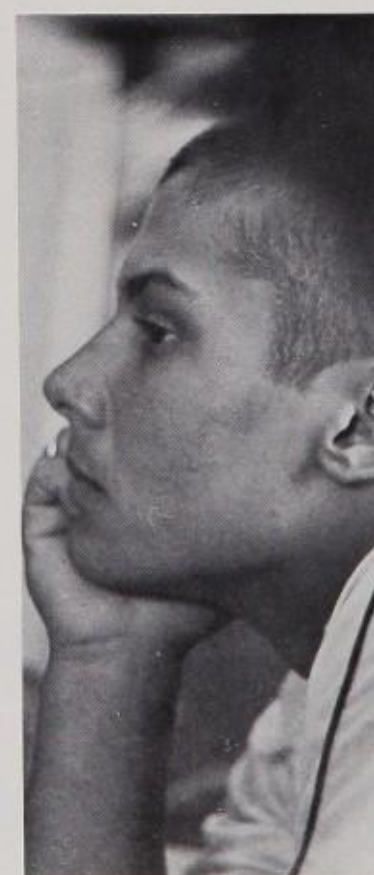

Seniors on the Quad Wall wait for first bell.

Your graduation picture draws laughs when it slips out of your locker.
Spring also has its moments.
You get rowdy at Basketball games
and nobody quiets you.
You get home from the Prom at 5:30 A.M., and your parents don't know it.
You knock down people in the halls;
Underclassmen don't hit back.
You head to the beach on Ditch Day and don't have to worry about forging.
Another day you're sick and hope your sunburn doesn't give you away.

Jeff Cadilli gives oral presentation in A.P. 4 History.

Kirk Pinto caught day-
dreaming.

You finally realize why past seniors dreaded graduation
rehearsals.

You go to the Baccalaureate Breakfast chewing a ten-inch cigar.

You've made it!
You're at the top!
A GRADUATE.

You're elected.
 Your name goes on the Homecoming bid.
 You're admired by your classmates.
 There are drawbacks, though.
 Classmates demand their privileges.
 You're constantly on the run.
 Teachers demand more from you.
 It's not just something to add to your transcripts.
 There are decisions.
 There are speeches.
 There are hassles.
 You put it all together.
 Somehow you make it through.
 Then Damien becomes something special.

Dean:

"The one element that makes Damien special to me is the small enrollment. Because everybody is your classmate, and friend, you are uninhibited. I feel this is the reason why so many become involved in the activities. I've had a lot of fun these past four years, and I'll be sorry when it's over."

Senior Class President Dean Donohoe, and George Niotta lead assembly.

Russ on official senior class business.

Pat Gross works on Homecoming posters.

Pat:

"Damien has been like a second family to me. It's been a special place where I've shared many happy times. I'm satisfied with my education and I'm sure Damien has prepared me for the years to come."

Senior Class Vice President, Russ Ramirez.

Senior Class Treasurer, Pat Gross.

Ken Havro watches Dean go over notes.

Fr. Bill Moore SS.CC., Bill Cortez and Senior Class Moderator, Mr. Stephan Lamb, cross the Quad.

Russ:

"Damien has given to me what everyone looks for, a sense of belonging. It is great to be a part of the Damien community and to get involved in activities around campus. Involvement is the key to having four great years at Damien."

George:

"I've been at DHS since 1975. Before me have gone three other classes and a lot of close friends, whose lives were a part of mine. Damien gave me a chance to know people and a way to enjoy my high school years. It got me involved in sports, student government and yearbook. But it's off to college now, and a different life."

SENIOR LEADERS

THE 1979 SENIOR TIME CAPSULE:

Cliff Atkinson wears a T-shirt from N.D., the #3 choice of Colleges.

When Seniors Mike Larson, Marty Partida, Jerry Schleisinger and Tim Byrnes couldn't be at Newport Beach they hit the Quad.

What were the Damien men of the Class of 1979
REALLY like?

What beach did they race to on hot Spring Days?

Where did they hang-out when they weren't at school?

What college did they root for?

What actor did they cheer for?

What beverage did they consume?

Their tastes have changed now, like their appearances,
that may bear but faint resemblance to a yearbook picture.

Yet, frozen in a time capsule are the Signs of the Times for the Class of '79.

"Being a member of Damien High School makes one feel very proud. It really is a fun school to be a part of. The majority of the teachers are young enough to relate to, and there is a unique closeness between one student and another. When I graduate this May, all the memories will hit me, and it will be very sad to leave."

STUDENT LEADER

John Capraro

"To me Damien is a home away from home. The relationship between the teachers and the students is excellent. The age of the teachers is a lot younger than in previous years. I think this accounts for the close relationships. My four years here at Damien have been fun and enjoyable. As a Freshman I hated it, but going through the years I have met so many people; I owe Damien a lot."

A.S.B. Social Chairman, John Capraro.

Steve Tsuchiyama

"When I first entered Damien my sophomore year, it was not by choice. I wasn't exactly thrilled about going to an all guys school. The unique atmosphere here at Damien has changed that. There is a closeness between the people that makes Damien one big family. The student-teacher relationship is the part of this closeness that is important. The teachers really care how you do; they take pride in watching you learn. It's this attitude that makes Damien special and makes me glad I came here."

David Weiss and A.S.B. Secretary, Steve Tsuchiyama.

A.S.B. Treasurer, David Weiss

The Damien High School Spartans did not make the C.I.F. playoffs, for the first time in three years. Going into the '78 season, the Spartans were rated number one in the San Antonio League and were figured to return as champs. These predictions seemed accurate after the season opener against Ganesha as the Spartans rolled to a convincing 21-12 victory. This victory assured the Damien Spartans a number one rating in the Southeastern Conference. However, after defeating Montclair in the second league match, the Green Machine faltered through three straight losses, downed by Claremont, Wilson and Chino, respectively.

The Spartans finished the season with a 5-4 record losing three of their four games by a combined total of 13 points. Damien played well all season, but the breaks seemed to go consistently against them. They lost two close games on last second field goals.

The 1978 league competition ended well, however, for the Spartans took three of their last four games outscoring their opponents 73-16. Head Coach Dick Larson was aided by Coach Tom Carroll (Defensive Line), Coach Mike Noonan (Offensive Line), Coach Joe Prior (Defensive Linebackers), Coach Dave Flores (Defensive Line), and Coach Jim O'Brien (Kicking).

Ricky Simmons tries to find an open lane.

Tim Bell gets a defensive position against Chino.

Cliff Atkinson battles a Pomona Red Devil beneath the boards.

Full of surprises, this year's Damien Varsity Basketball team, under first year coach Jim Salter, proved to be both exciting and successful. Off to a very slow start, and entering league play as a non-contender, the Spartans were to get into high gear as the year progressed.

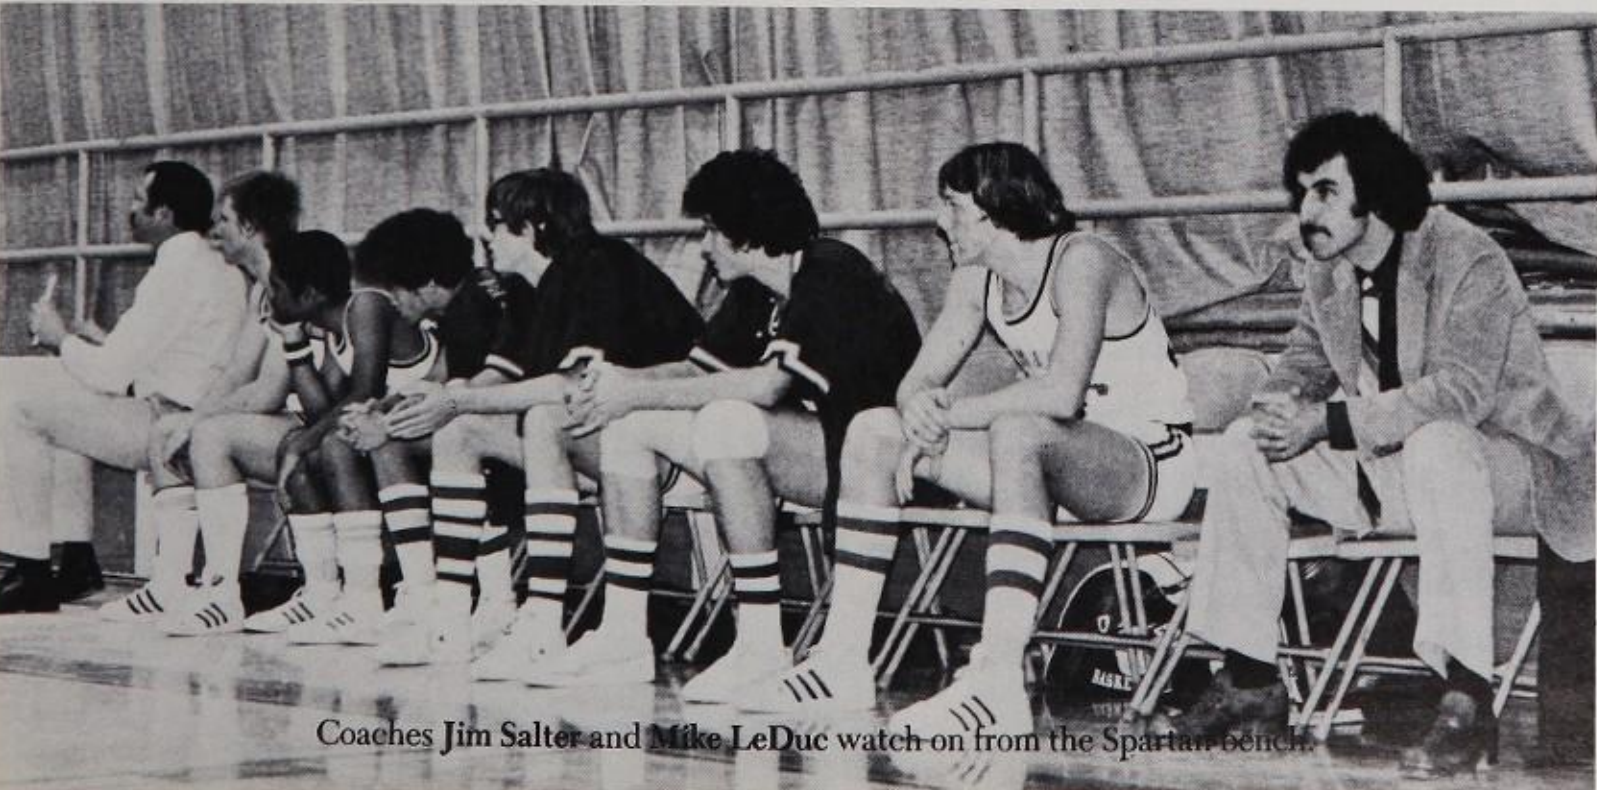

Bob Normington goes up for the tip.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

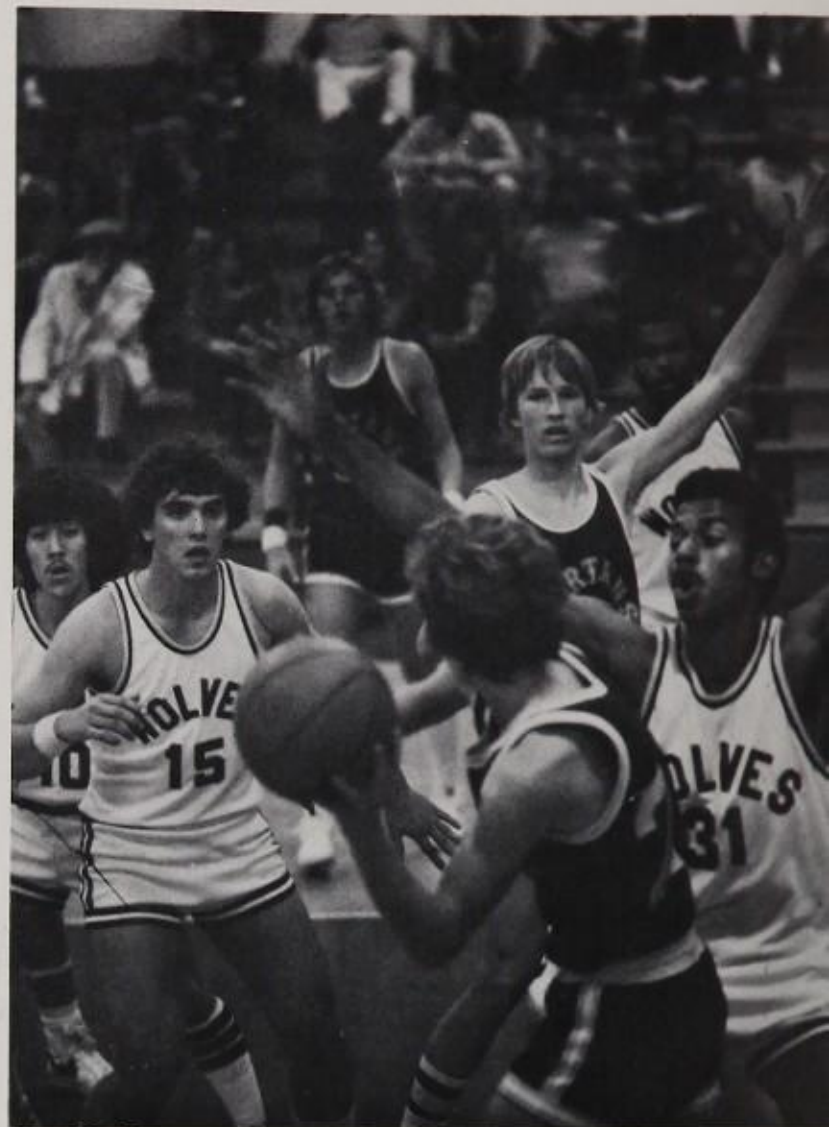

Steve Stanier is fouled on a shot, by a member of the Ganesha team.

Coaches Jim Salter and Mike LeDuc watch on from the Spartan bench.

Ricky Simmons brings the ball down court.

Jon Kuiken attempts pass to Cliff Atkinson in Claremont game.

An exhausted Cliff Atkinson prepares for a time out.

Captain Bob Normington listens to a contested play.

Losing all three of their preseason games, Damien started the league by winning three of the first four games. Against the tougher competition of the SAL, the Spartans found themselves in a three game losing streak.

But then everything turned the Spartan's way much to the chagrin of the opposing coaches, as the Hoopsters went on to win seven of the next games. Going into their final games of the year the Spartans were still in the playoff picture. Needing a win to secure a post-season berth, the Spartans succumbed to Alta Loma to end a very good year.

In the first round of league play the Spartans racked up wins against Upland, Montclair, Pomona, Claremont, Chino, and Alta Loma, while falling only to Garey. A surprising Ganesha came out and deadlocked the Spartans in a 0-0 tie. In the second round the squad won four games including a 2-1 decision over Chino. The Spartans ended league competition second in the SAL and earned the right to continue action in the CIF playoffs against Nogales in the first round.

Damien has long been known for its fine soccer teams, and the 1979 squad was bent on keeping up with tradition. Led by senior captain, and four-year letterman, Mike Fox, the Spartan booters put in a fine season. Entering with their annual Christmas Tournament the Spartans soundly defeated Pasadena, Chaffey, and league rival, Garey. In the final championship game, however, the team lost a tough 0-1 decision to South Torrance.

Jon Erickson

Jon Erickson races to defend goal from Garey contender.

Ken Potter shows passing expertise.

When do the class rings arrive?
The symbol that you made it through the first year,
And will probably survive the next ones coming up.
The strangeness is gone.
You know some of the teachers, You know where your classes are?
You know what high school's about.
You grew during the summer, so
You're no longer the smallest guy around.
Algebra I gives way to Geometry.
Social Science to World History,
And Spanish I turns into Spanish II.
A pattern is developing:
Even though you're still caught in the middle.
Sixteen: An important year.
Drivers' Ed., the DMV, your first ticket.
Symbols: You're coming of age at Damien.

Where is the library?
 (Where's anything for that matter?)
 Somehow you weren't really prepared for
 All of this.
 Six teachers and fifty-minute classes just Aren't that much fun.

Seniors are Huge
 There are all kinds of rules.
 You miss friends that decided not
 To enroll or that didn't get in.
 You have more books than you've ever seen
 And it takes a pass to do anything.

You're not sure that being a
 Spartan was such a good idea.
 Gradually things start to look familiar.
 The guy you played against in grade school
 Is now a friend.

You discover that the 400 building has an upstairs,
 And that the Dean's office has a phone.
 You begin to realize that going to Damien is
 More than just something you do,
 It is a way of life.

CLASS OF 1982

Good Luck Seniors!
The Carney's

EL GATO GORDO

It all started in Cucamonga.

Eleven years ago we had a great idea. We opened a restaurant in an abandoned farm house...in a secluded vineyard...in the heart of California's oldest wine district.

It seems that the Hollywood-movie-set-look gets a little tiring. Cask 'n Cleaver has decided to concentrate on the basics. We believe that what you really want is great

A few words about our food and wine. It's one thing to say you're good and entirely another to prove it. The Cask 'n Cleaver puts a heavy emphasis on serving you hand-selected, carefully aged Eastern Corn-Belt beef. The lobster is Western Australian. Exclusively. Our salad bar is said to be second to none. We want to make sure that you receive a good dollar value. That's why our Big Baker potato is included with every meal.

Our vintners work hard to produce fine wines. At each Cask 'n Cleaver we also work hard to know the wines we serve. Our wine list offers you selections from the best wineries in California such as Robert Mondavi, Louis Martini, and Beaulieu plus many of your new favorites like Callaway, Chateau St. Jean, Angelo Papagni and Burgess Cellars.

Cask 'n Cleaver knows that there's a lot more than good food and wine to make your evening pleasant and memorable. If you have wined and dined with us you know that these are not hollow claims. If you haven't partaken the Cask 'n Cleaver, please do...soon. Like a bottle of good wine, we get better every year.

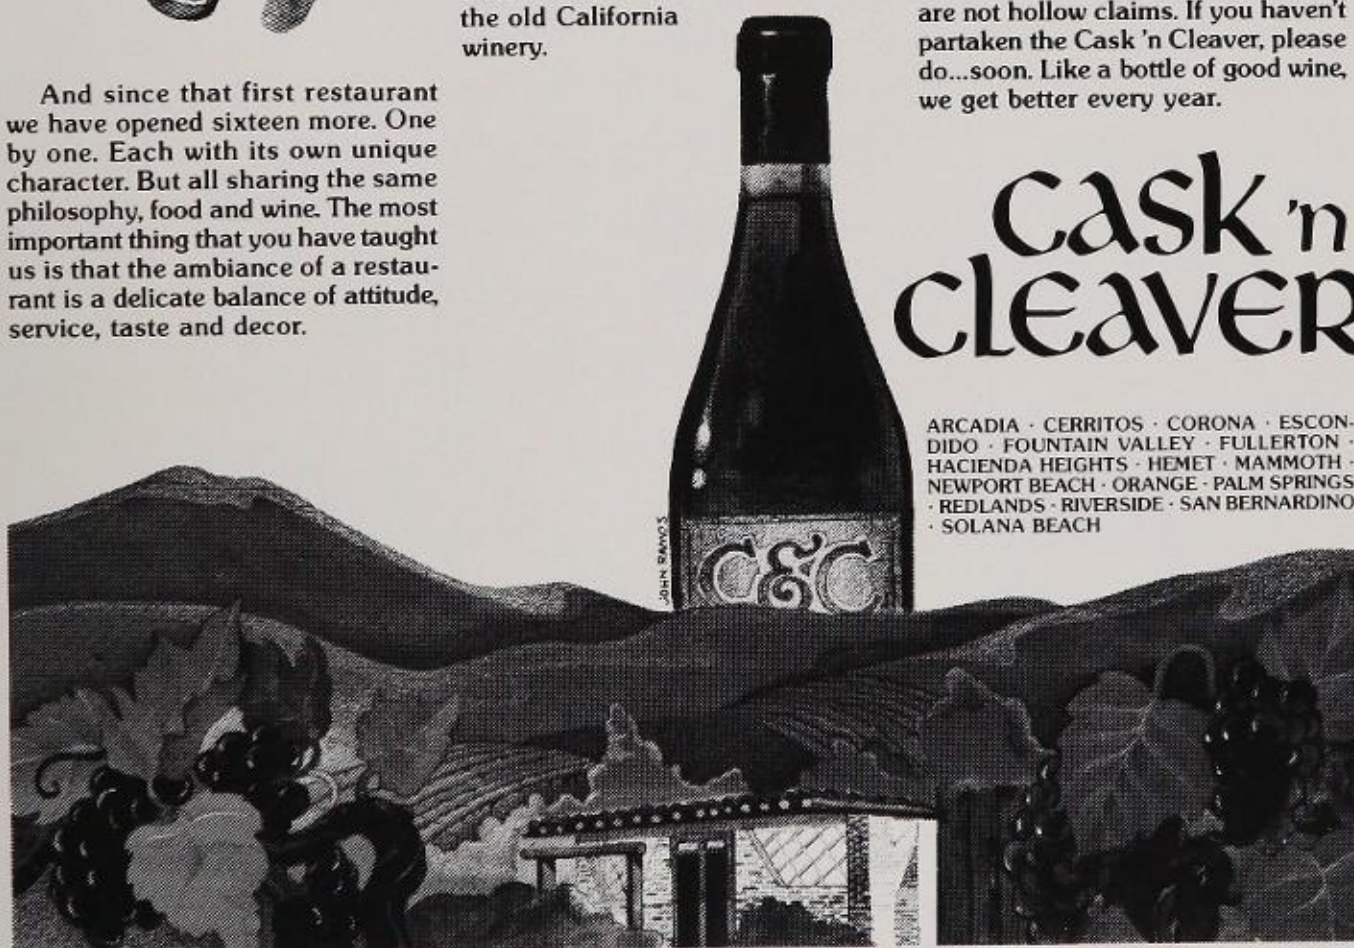

food, wine and tasteful service in a "real" environment. That's why we have kept to our original love affair with the grape. The theme is wine. And at each Cask 'n Cleaver you'll find a touch of the rustic and a dash of the old California winery.

And since that first restaurant we have opened sixteen more. One by one. Each with its own unique character. But all sharing the same philosophy, food and wine. The most important thing that you have taught us is that the ambiance of a restaurant is a delicate balance of attitude, service, taste and decor.

The chapter may be done,
But the diary isn't finished.
There are the events,
the places, and
Most of all, the people
That made it all worthwhile,
And eased the process of
Coming of age in LaVerne.
(And sometimes it may comfort you to know that there is still a frisbee on the top of the 400 building roof.)

"THANK YOU AND THERE ARE NO FURTHER ANNOUNCEMENTS."
